Situation and Amenities

Hawes is in Wensleydale, within the heart of The Yorkshire Dales National Park, and has a thriving community with numerous events throughout the year. There are several independent shops including butchers, bakers and grocers, along with pubs, restaurants and cafés. There is also a weekly farmers' market, a doctors' surgery, dentist and chemist.

Hawes is a highly desirable tourist location with plenty of walking and cycling for the outdoor enthusiast. For those wishing to visit attractions close by, these include Aysgarth Falls, White Scar Caves, the Ribbleshead Viaduct and The Creamery: home of Wensleydale cheese.

The market town also benefits from a primary school, with dedicated buses running to other schools. Private education is situated at Sedburgh, also approximately 16 miles away and there is a train station at Garsdale (6.5 miles).

Fair View

The current owners have created a superb and unique, high-quality home with flexible accommodation over three floors. The beautifully-presented property, whilst offers spacious accommodation, suitable for a variety of uses, including those looking for a substantial family home, multigenerational living, space to work from home or a large holiday let.

Throughout the property, the attention to detail is apparent and the contemporary yet sympathetic décor complements the original character features found in this stunning and spacious Victorian home. The property is currently run under the business name of "The House at Hawes" and has won numerous awards, including "Best Newcomer" at the Yorkshire Post Tourism Awards in December 2022. It has a successful returning client database and offers a fantastic lifestyle business in the heart of the Yorkshire Dales National Park. The property provides five guest bedrooms, all benefitting from quality en-suite facilities and spacious private living accommodation for those looking to continue running the successful business opportunity. The property benefits from superb views to the front and rear over Wether and Stags Fell, toward the Buttermere, an attractive feature for any purchaser looking to be surrounded by the fantastic countryside, in this Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. The property also provides flexibility to enjoy as a turnkey family home, including for multi-generational living as there is planning permission granted for the property to be returned to a private residential dwelling.

Accommodation

The period features of this stunning home are apparent as soon as you step through the original front door, with stained glass windows and cornicing details found throughout the majority of the rooms. There are open fires with marble surrounds, stripped floorboards, two main reception rooms and ceiling rose details as well as lovely timber flooring and a substantial main staircase to the first floor. There is a substantial, modern galley kitchen with quartz worktops, utility area and ground floor WC. There are five guest bedrooms, four of which are large doubles and one is located on the ground floor, offering multigenerational living potential. All of the rooms offer private en suite facilities with quality sanitaryware.

The private areas provide a home office, which could be used as a bedroom and a door leading to a quality bathroom with contemporary bath, as well as a staircase to the second floor where there are two further double bedrooms and modern shower room.

Externally

To the front of the property, there are iron railings and stone walls, leading to a drive which is shared with the cottage next door. There is a parking area which is large enough for several vehicles.

The English country-style gardens wrap around the house and include generous lawns along with well-stocked flower beds which are beautifully landscaped and offer a variety of mature shrubs and plants throughout the year. There are attractive outdoor areas for the guests but also private spaces, including a substantial patio, for the owners to enjoy the sunshine and views at the rear.
